Dear Mr. Dulles:

On January 6, 1958, the Foreign Service Institute will begin its tenth Mid-Career Course on Foreign Affairs. It is my pleasure to offer again an opening in the Course for one officer from your organization. Our present class includes three participants from other government organizations, and it is hoped that in the forthcoming Course a greater number of agencies will be able to send their representatives, since we feel that the addition of these officers with their varied backgrounds and professional experience has made a real contribution to the Mid-Career program.

As an officer nominated by you can be accommodated without additional expense to the Institute, no reimbursement by your agency would be required for this training. Classes are conducted at the Department's Field Training Center, Front Royal, Virginia, during the first two weeks of the Course, and near the end of the schedule a two-day field trip to UN Headquarters in New York is planned. These activities involve per diem and travel expenses which we do expect each organization to meet for its own nominee.

Should you be interested in nominating one of your officers to participate in the Mid-Career Course, I would appreciate it if you would furnish the Registrar of the Institute with the name and rank of your designee and a brief summary of his educational background and experience with your organization, prior to December 15, 1957. For full participation in the projected curriculum, nominees should have top secret security clearance.

I regret/

The Honorable
Allen W. Dulles,
Director, Central Intelligence Agency,

I regret that copies of the projected outline are not yet available; however, the coming session follows much the same general pattern as the current one, an outline of which is enclosed.

Sincerely yours,
